M. Phil- Feb., 2011

Library Science - Course III (d)

(Information Processing and Organization)

(Write your Roll No. on the top immediately on receipt of this question paper)

All questions carry equal marks

1. Either, 1.1   Discuss the structure of classification schedules and thesauri. Discuss the usefulness of controlled vocabularies in information organization and retrieval.

Or,1-2.   'Citation Index is more than an aid to the users seeking information and a research tool for studying the behavioural characteristics of literature'. In the light of the above statement, discuss the significance and impact of Citation Index.

2. Either, 2.1   Discuss the importance of ontology in database organization. Explain the key applications of ontology in information organization.

Or,2-2.   'On web the heart of information organization is the ability of uniquely identify information objects.' In the light of above statement, discuss the functions and usefulness of Metadata and Digital Object Identifiers (DOI).

3. Either, 3.1   Discuss the usefulness of taxonomies in the organization of information on Intranet and Internet. Explain the various types of taxonomies.

Or,3-2.   'In the information age and incredible information overload, indices are the effective short cuts to search a document'. In the light of statement, discuss the need of indices and various types of indexing systems.